Description

The whole idea behind starting the company came from giving voice for the voiceless. We aim to provide platform for women and give them the opportunity to take their part and play their roles in the community in an effective way to maintain the Palestinian heritage and identity. The products that we offer express elegant and beautiful pieces of art. What makes them special is the idea of forming heritage into contemporary shape that suits everyone. The company was established in 2004. At first, there were no more than 15 employees, but now there are more than 150. And the oldest one has been working here for 15 years.
