Description

Business Women Forum (BWF) is a national non-profit association established in 2006, to help “strengthen the role of businesswomen as leaders in the Palestinian economy through advocacy, networking, and the provision of business services”. Since its establishment, BWF’s relevance as a voice for women entrepreneurs within the Palestinian business community has increased substantially through designing and implementing a series of targeted interventions including: Building the capacity of business women, women entrepreneurs and youth through the Business Development Center (BDC), the technical arm of BWF. BDC provides business development services tailored for women entrepreneurs. · Encourage entrepreneurship through targeting young entrepreneurs to join a Business Plan Competition (BPC) for women-owned SME’s, Internship Program to qualify them for the labor market, and Role Model Program that has been organized in cooperation with schools and universities.
